OUR UNIQUE APPROACH TO SHOWCASING NATURAL TALENT

Naturally Talented Me (NTM) launched in May 2020 to support those furthest from the job market and impacted by market challenges, who struggle to be seen and found due to their age, status, background, or situation.

About Us

We bring a unique approach that focuses on and unlocks the core attributes and drivers of an individual's potential and personality – Talent!

Our innovative profiling approach reveals individuals Natural Talents, providing them with a mechanism to showcase themselves to potential employers using a highly credible visual alternative to the standard CV word-search recruitment processes. Our SeeMe solution provides jobseekers with a new way of discovering career pathways not previously considered and presents alternative job opportunities matched directly to their individual talents.

Thinking Differently

Revealing and understanding what your talents are and where they can take you...

Differently Thinking

Driving employers to change their approach to finding new and diverse talent pools that are not available through the standard recruitment processes

Removing labels to truly showcase potential no matter age, background or situation

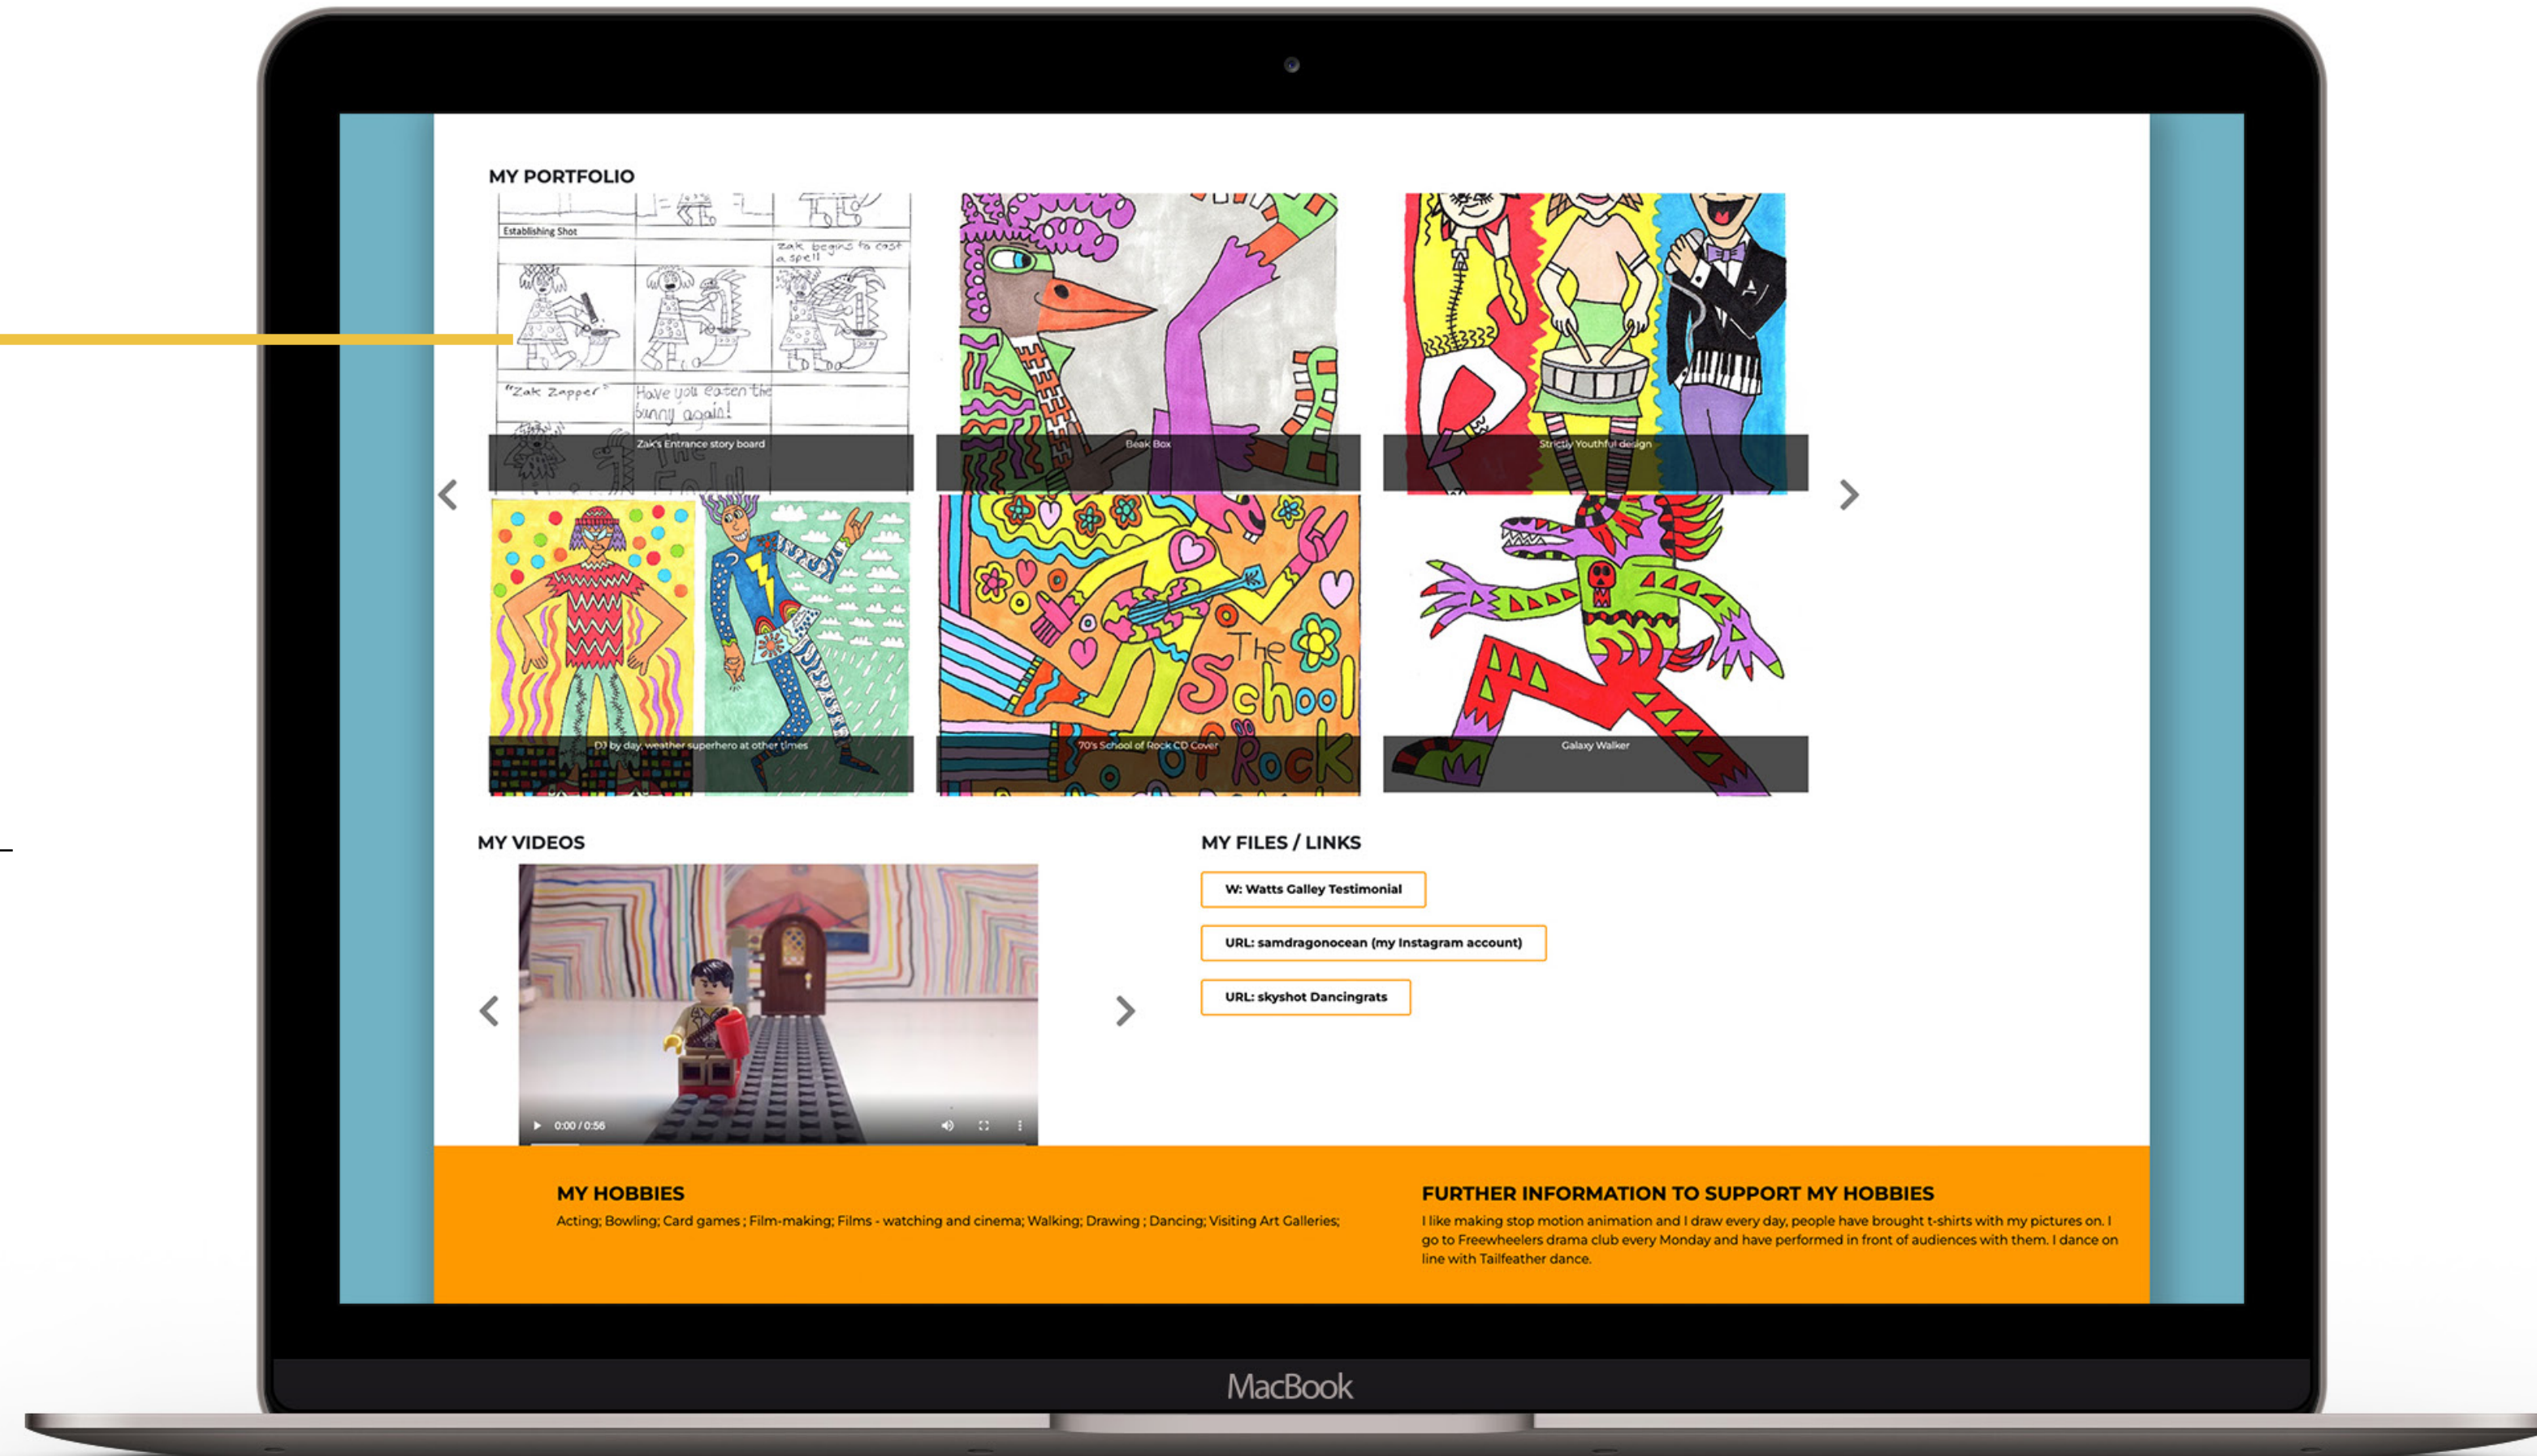

We have removed Sam's full identity for this demonstration. NTM provide the facility to switch off personal data.

Talent such as Sam, find the current recruitment process difficult to engage with. Using NTM provides Sam with a SeeMe portfolio which showcases his abilities and potential, removing the current barriers in being seen and found, giving him a place to shine.

Removing labels to truly showcase potential no matter age, background or situation

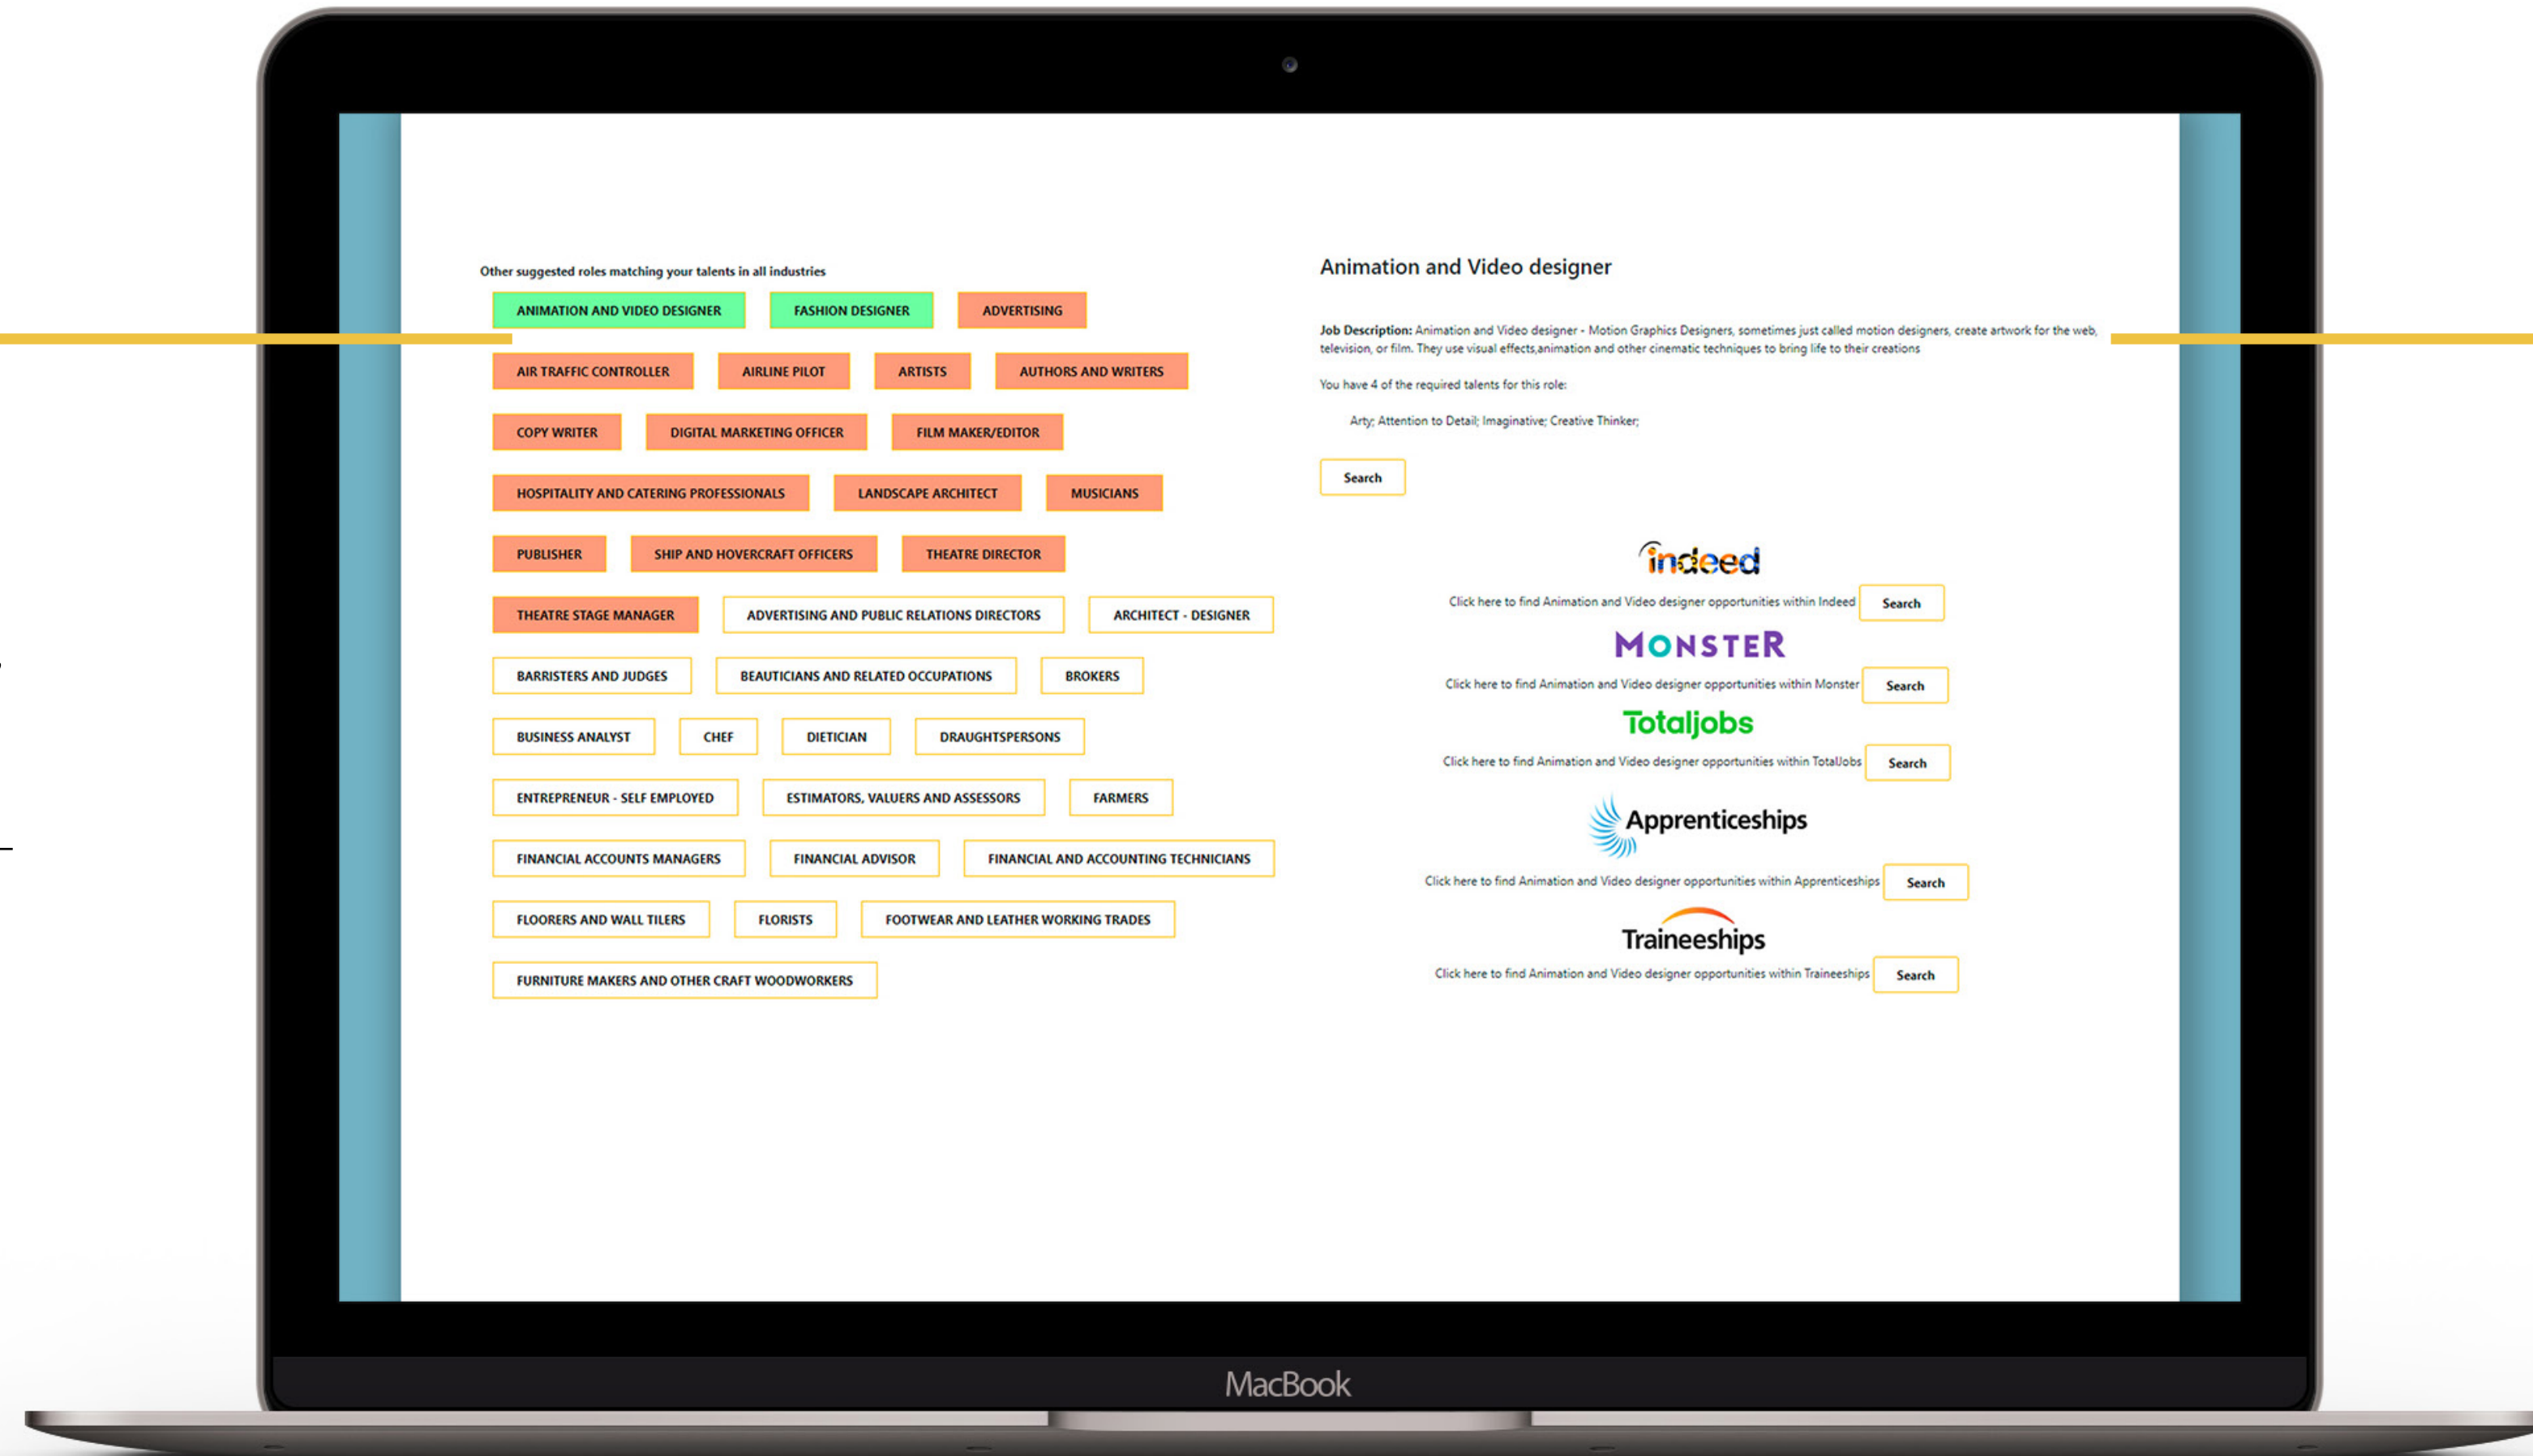

Using visual imagery, video and visible evidence of ability, talent and potential provides an employer with real insight into the individual, removing the barriers of current recruitment processes which focus on word matching, experience and qualifications.
